Information Outputting Apparatus and Method, and Presentation Medium for Digital Television Broadcast Systems

IN THE ABSTRACT

Please amend the abstract by rewriting the same to the following:

Disclosed are an information outputting apparatus, an information outputting method and a presentation medium, wherein the information outputting apparatus having an extracting device for extracting a program clock reference and a transport packet from an input stream, a clock generating device for generating a clock signal synchronized with the program clock reference extracted by the extracting device, a time stamp generating device for generating a time stamp in synchronization with the clock signal generated by the clock generating device, and an information generating device for generating information representing continuity of time stamps. As a result, a stream can be played back correctly and continuously even if discontinuity of time stamps exists.
